LARGE CLAIM COMPROMISED

Hearing Suddenly Ends When Mrs. Jessie L. Alexander is Allowed $1,850 For Services

CARING FOR LEANDER VEATCH

About $30 a Week Demanded, But Physician Testifies it Was Not Worth More Than $10 a Week

The claim of Jessie L. Alexander, administratrix of the estate of Leander Veatch, against the estate, in which the demand was $6,593, was compromised late yesterday afternoon for $1,850. Under the terms of the agreement the case was taken from the jury and Special Judge Thomas E. Davidson was allowed to find for Mrs. Alexander against the estate. Under the agreement, John H. Kiplinger and B. F. Miller were allowed $350 for defending the action against the estate.

The sudden ending of the case came as no great surprise following the testimony of several of the witnesses. A total of seven witnesses had been examined when the case was compromised. The plaintiff asked something like thirty dollars a week for a period of four years for caring for the late Mr. Veatch. Dr. Shauck of Arlington threw a bomb into the case for the plaintiff when he testified that in his opinion the service performed by Mrs. Alexander would be worth on an average of ten dollars a week.

The case would have required two days and as a result today had been given to the case on the court calendar. For this reason there was no court today, although Judge Sparks was here and transacted some business.

The case of Frank Boots against Warren W. Robbins, on a note demanding $250, ended when Judge Sparks found for Boots in the sum of $216 and $15 attorneys fees. Robbins' attorney withdrew his appearance and the defendant allowed judgement to be taken by default.

The court also found for the plaintiff, James F. Hargrove in his suit against Frank Lucas, and William P. Lucas, on a note demanding $150. Hargrove was given judgement for $116.01 and $10.80 attorney fees. The defendants in this case also defaulted.

John Manche and John Sparks of Ripley township have adjusted their difficulties and as a result the two suits against Sparks filed by Manche were dismissed today. One of the suit was an account and the other was for damages, demanding $100. This last case was sent here on an appeal from Squire Bishop's court. Manche alleged that Sparks allowed his horses to enter his clover field and based his claim for damages on this. The appeal was taken to the circuit court by Manche. The costs in both suits were paid when they were dismissed.

Charles W. Hinkle, Mathew Kerner, Horace S. Conrad, Christopher Johnson, Alfretta Johnson and David H. Hudelson have filed a petition in the circuit court for the construction of a drain. The proposed drain is in Center township.

Stacy Hinkle, who has been attending school at Pittsburgh, has quit to accept a position with the government surveying on a tract of land of one hundred thousand acres in Utah, about 150 miles south of Salt Lake City.

The county commissioners will be in session again Saturday. They did nothing yesterday but allow the usual claims.

PROGRAM IS BEING MADE OUT

Probable That Industrial Parade Will Take Place Wednesday Instead of Thursday

SLIGHT CHANGE IN SHOW

Pony Ribbons Will be Awarded Thursday Morning Just Before The Light Harness Class

The program is being made out for the eighth annual horse show and fall festival. Only two weeks intervene until the time for the horse show rolls around and the committees in charge have much hard work ahead of them.

It is stated that the industrial parade will be held Wednesday, instead of Thursday, as was the case last year. Many suggestions have been made that the parade be held earlier in the week because business men who will have entries are anxious not to spend the whole week when the show is taking place preparing their floats.

Some slight changes will be made in the program, it is stated. The horse show proper will be opened formally at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning, October 26, with the parade of horses entered in the show. The awarding of premiums will not get under way until one o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

Another change will be made in the order of the show so that school children will be able to show their entries in the pony show. This class was set for Wednesday afternoon and evening last year so that children would not have to be out of school, but it will be the first thing on the program Thursday morning because there will be no school in Rushville on Thursday and Friday of that week on account of the meeting of the state teachers association in Indianapolis.

Friends of the Rev. John S. Ward who was pastor of the First church at Shelbyville, had sought to have him appointed superintendent of the Connorsville district and it was predicted he would be named, but the Rev. C. E. Bacon was picked for superintendent instead.

James E. Watson was re-elected a member of the board of trustees of Moores Hill college.

BACHELOR GOES TO A BROOKLYN SUBURB

Former Pastor of St. Paul's Church Gets Good Charge at Northport, Long Island

PREPARES TO LEAVE CITY

The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, former pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, arrived home from the Indiana M. E. conference at Indianapolis Monday evening and today was making preparations to move to Northport, Long Island, a Brooklyn suburb, to become pastor of the Methodist church there. It was announced Monday that the Rev. Mr. Batchelor had been sent from the Indiana conference to New York state, but the exact location was not given out. The Rev. Mr. Batchelor came to the pastorate of the local church two years ago from Martinsville, where the Rev. V. W. Tevis, retired superintendent of this district, was assigned Monday.

Friends of the Rev. John S. Ward who was pastor of the First church at Shelbyville, had sought to have him appointed superintendent of the Connorsville district and it was predicted he would be named, but the Rev. C. E. Bacon was picked for superintendent instead.

James E. Watson was re-elected a member of the board of trustees of Moores Hill college.

MECHANICIAN IS KILLED AT SPEEDWAY

CAR GOING 86 MILES AN HOUR

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—Albert Johnson, age 25, expert mechanician, was fatally injured and Ross Robinson, age 21, was seriously injured when the car they were testing at the Speedway turned over while going at a speed of 86 miles an hour. Johnson died in an Indianapolis hospital last night. Both men are from Detroit. Although the accident occurred late yesterday, it was not known in this city until the coroner gave out the details today.

Johnson's right arm was torn off at the elbow. The car it said to have rolled over twelve times. The accident occurred when a front tire let go.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church will hold an exchange in the Helm room in North Main street Saturday.

Miss Julia Munden, who has been unable to attend to her duty as operator at the Arlington telephone office for three weeks, is improving but still unable to resume her work.

ULTIMATUM OF CZAR'S HELD UP

DELAY UNACCOUNTED FOR

Believed in Some Quarters Bulgarian Censor Delayed Ultimatum to Give Country Time

(By United Press.)

London, Oct. 5.—Russia's 24-hour ultimatum was not handed to the Bulgarian foreign office until four o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to Petrograd dispatches received here today. Since the 24-hour period in which Bulgaria must reply did not begin until the ultimatum was delivered, Bulgaria has until four o'clock this afternoon, Petrograd time, in which to back down on her menacing attitude.

The Russian minister at Sofia was instructed to hand Russia's message to the Bulgarian office at 4 p. m. Sunday and leave Sofia at the same hour yesterday if no satisfactory answer was given.

All telegraphic messages to and from Bulgaria have been greatly delayed and it is believed that the text of the ultimatum did not reach the Russian legation at Sofia until yesterday. In some quarters, Petrograd dispatches assert, it was believed the Bulgarian censor may have purposely held up the communication to give his government time to complete its mobilization, though this opinion was not shared by the Russian foreign office.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK GERMAN LINES FAILS

Not Only That, But Effort of Anglo-French Did Not Cause Enemy to Alter Their Plans

FRENCH HILL RECAPTURED

Berlin, Oct. 5.—The allies attempt to break the German lines in the west not only failed but it did not even alter the military plans of the German general staff, it was stated.

No new regiments were sent to the western front to meet the Anglo-French attack, it was officially stated. One division was about to leave the front for another scene of action, but was detained and no reinforcements were sent.

German troops not only repulsed all enemy attacks on enemy fronts yesterday by recapturing a trench on a hill northwest of Givenchy, the war office announced this afternoon.

GERMAN TRAIN EXPLODED

French War Office, However, Claims no Further Victories

(By United Press.)

Paris, Oct. 5.—French artillery exploded a train north of Verdun, according to the war office statement this afternoon, which claimed no further progress for the allies at any point.

French and German artillery increased their activity throughout the night, but did not accomplish anything. A French air squadron dropped bombs on a station near Peronne.

Attack by Bulgarian Revenue Cutters Causes Excitement

Athens, Oct. 5.—Three Greek sailing vessels were pursued and shelled by Bulgarians revenue cutters in the Aegean Sea, according to reports received here today. The sailing barks escaped undamaged but the incident has caused much excitement here.

ARABIC SINKING IS DISAVOWED

Lusitania Incident is Also Brought to End by Note From Germany This Afternoon

IT IS HANDED TO LANSING

Now That Controversy is Over White House Will Begin Negotiations With British

BULLETIN

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 5.—All the differences between the United States and Germany are practically disposed of by a letter handed by Ambassador Bernstorff to Secretary Lansing this afternoon in which the sinking of the Arabic was specifically disavowed.

Statements from the state department and the white house plainly indicate that the effect of the note is to wipe out the Lusitania controversy as well as that of the Arabic.

"Now that the Arabic case is settled, the American note regarding the British order and the general trade interference will be shortly dispatched," it was learned at the white house on high authority.

"Progress has been made"—Secretary Lansing.

"The Arabic problem is settled"—Ambassador Bernstorff.

That was the status, variously interpreted—of the negotiations between Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Bernstorff regarding the sinking of the Arabic as expressed by the two diplomats following a twenty-minute conference earlier in the day.

That the German agent presented a practically satisfactory form of disavowal of the sinking of the vessel, was the general belief though Secretary Lansing declined to say whether any document has been exchanged.

Secretary Lansing called at the white house and saw the president concerning his conference with Bernstorff, and soon afterwards the German note was given out.

Duroc-Jersey Swine Sale

The undersigned will sell at Public Auction at his farm, one-half mile east of Falmouth, Indiana, on Wednesday, October 6th, 1915

61 Head of Pure Bred Duroc Jersey Swine

ALL IMMUNE AND GUARANTEED CHOLERA PROOF

I am putting up the best lot I have ever had, both as to breeding and individuality. Thirty Fall yearling gilts, 16 February and March boars, 12 to 15 Spring gilts—about 61 head in all. All have had the double serum treatment for prevention of cholera. I fully guarantee them to be immune from that disease. I will make anyone a present of any one of them he finds with a bad back or broken down pasterns. They have not been stuffed; are in just moderate flesh. In shape to go on and do you good. All of this offering are sired by Col. Jackson II 31331. He is bred the same as Defender, the twice champion at International Stock show. Their sires were full brothers, and their dams both sired by Orion Chief. The dams are by Long Chief 35981, full brother to Cherry King, Fancy Col. and Orion Col. M. Anyone at all acquainted with the breed knows that they were among the very highest, tip-top show and breeding boars of the breed. Come and see them and buy a good yearling sow that the stamina has not been fed out of.

TERMS—Made known day of sale. Strangers from a distance wanting credit will please bring with them their latest home bank reference, and settle with notes their home bank will accept.

New York, Oct. 5.—Placing the $500,000,000 worth of Anglo-French war loan bonds on the New York stock exchange and signing of the formal agreement between the financial agents of England and France and American bankers are now the next step in handling the biggest war loan the world ever knew.

The syndicate books were closed at 10 a. m. today. It was reported in Wall street that applications received totaled $650,000,000. J. P. Morgan received newspaper men this afternoon.

"The loan is a great success," he said. "The issue is for $500,000,000 and can not be over that amount. We will not announce what the total applications are."

BRYANT TAKES UP NEW LINE

Understood That he Will Turn Towards Religious Field

(By United Press.)

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 5.—That William Jennings Bryan is fully aware of the extent and scope of his present unpopularity, but that he is buoyed up by the confident belief that he will be vindicated by future events, became known to the secretary of state's close friends during his recent visit to his Lincoln home.

It is well understood here that Bryan intends to turn more toward religious work, not becoming an out-and-out evangelist like Sunday, but using his great gifts on the platform in a somewhat related line of work.

While the arrangements have not yet been announced it is pretty well understood that Bryan is to be the forty-two centimetre gun in the Nebraska prohibition campaign in 1916.

DR. DUMBA LEAVES NEW YORK TODAY

Recalled Austrian-Hungarian Ambassador Departs Under Safe Conduct of United States

LARGE CROWD SEES HIM OFF

(By United Press) New York, Oct. 5.—Wilson's demand for the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, was fully answered this afternoon when the foreign envoy sailed for home on the liner Nieuw Amsterdam.

Protected by the safe conduct obtained for him by this government, the ambassador and Madam Dumba are assured of unmolested passage though their steamer puts in at an enemy port.

Attaches of the Austro-Hungarian legation and friends of the ambassador thronged the pier. Flowers were banked high on the decks of the liner.

A Drama You'll Never Forget—in Five Reels
WRITTEN BY LOIS WEBER AUTHOR OF HYPOCRITES PRODUCED BY LOIS WEBER & PHILLIPS SMALLEY

HERE is a wonderful and unusual play. Not scenically, but emotionally superb. A play about everyday people such as we meet in daily life. But it is as big as human passions are deep; it is as strong as human nature is weak. You must make it a point to see this—it is too big a picture to miss.

CHASING THE LIMITED

True Secret of Keeping

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels constantly active. Without these requisites, poisons and waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes flabby, obese, nervous, mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and sallow of face."

"But to get liver and bowels working as they should, without causing any ill after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble May apple, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effectiveness, though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of mercurial origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in 'sentinel tablets'—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal wall. Sentinel tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples,
Blotches, Sallow Skin

Unsightly eruptions, pimples, boils, are due to sluggish liver, constipated bowel and a polluted blood stream, a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is in tablet form, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sentinel tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about a dime's worth, and swallow one at bedtime to realize there's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so effective, so soothed and instead of a sickening after-effect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Sentinel tablets are not only the finest remedy known for constipation and torpid liver, but offer the sanest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New
Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sentinel tablet" as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives.

Sentinel tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to their tendency to aid in bringing about natural, painless habit—thus encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they won't offend the gouty, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of sentinel tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the job is done. For constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found—Drugists Review.

WINS AT LEXINGTON, KY.

Harrie Jones, the local horseman, driving Fay Richmond yesterday in the 2:07 pace at the Grand Circuit meet in Lexington, Ky., won the race easily over a field of ten starters. The race was for two heats out of three and Jones won in straight heats. The purse was for \$1,000. The best time was 2:03 $\frac{1}{4}$ made in the second heat. Jones had everything his own way in the first heat taking the heat in 2:06 $\frac{1}{4}$. In the second and final heat he was pushed by Our Colonel, but Fay Richmond had the speed.

What with the high engulfing collars, the all swathing mufflers and the all enveloping fur neck pieces I fear me chinning will become a lost pastime. For chins will be more than receding this season they will be absolutely retired from public gaze. Alas the poor swain who yearns to espouse a damsel with the weak chin and plastic temperment of the clinging vine may discover to his consternation after marriage when he first glimpses her chin unmuffled that she has the firm and stable jaw structure of the advanced feminist.

They are very smart, my dear. New York, Oct. 5.—Muffle up a little closer even if these are dog days, Indian summer and all that. If you would be foxy in a white fox neck piece on the Fourth of July surely a little thing like a worsted muffler can't put you out of the running now. Prostrated victims of the hottest day of the season seeking the solace of a long cool draught pleasantly a tinkle with cubes of ice in a smart nearly swooned at the appearance of a chic young flapper in a Chinese tasseled hat swathed to the nose in a wide fringed worsted muffler, red and white striped like an American flag. Since then though the heat abateth not mufflers increaseath mightily.

Such hectic hues affairs they are too in glowing combinations of stripes and spots and splashes while some are one color on one side and another color on the other. Solid colored ones of bright purple are fringed in gold with a quaint gold embroidered monogram on one end. A tempermental flame toned one has the reverse side in ash grey and a tigerish confection has black stripes on a tawny background.

There are all silk ones and fibre silk ones but the worsted ones have the real stamp of fashionable approval and some of these in varigated stripes of rainbow hue are decidedly reminiscent of Hi Holler. Indeed the old time farmer and rural character would seem never to have been without his muffler as a first aid to chore doing. The maid today is quite as tenacious of hers on Fifth Avenue as a first aid to heartbreak.

Much originality and artistry is shown in the arrangement of these telling throat attachments. One maid with killing coquetry knots hers under her left pink ear, the ingenue wears hers tied behind like a doting mother ties a napkin around the neck of her offspring in lieu of a bib forgot. Yet another wraps hers jealously close about her chin with just one long end given its freedom to float seductively behind her shapely back. Oh there is as much art required in adjusting your muffler as there is joy in the perfect attainment.

What with the high engulfing collars, the all swathing mufflers and the all enveloping fur neck pieces I fear me chinning will become a lost pastime. For chins will be more than receding this season they will be absolutely retired from public gaze. Alas the poor swain who yearns to espouse a damsel with the weak chin and plastic temperment of the clinging vine may discover to his consternation after marriage when he first glimpses her chin unmuffled that she has the firm and stable jaw structure of the advanced feminist.

This ought to be a most successful season for the lady with the triple chins. She is sure to ~~own~~ a collection of mufflers from A to Z for she knows that to her joy that two chins in a muffler are as good as one in the open day.

It ought to offer wonderful opportunities for reduction also for a rubber chin strap could be worn efficaciously and unseen beneath the muffler and even the muffler on its own account ought to duce any known or unknown quantity of chins without any gattapercha aid.

Whether you be chinny or chinless however, you'd better muffle up in a muffler or you'll muffle the hit of the season.

Consul Hansen's statement of the Swatow, China sugar situation is interesting of course; but the fascinating thing to us is the name of the place—Swatow! 'Sounds' like a Fly Cemetery.

The Irish wheat crop, Commerce tells us covers 87,116 acres this year. That's nothing. The Irish Cop crop, covers the entire United States.

TO ORGANIZE ASSOCIATION.

A meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 6, at two o'clock at the Blue River cemetery for the purpose of organizing a cemetery association. The cemetery is now owned by the Little Blue River Baptist church, and it is planned to take control of the cemetery by forming an association. A large crowd is urged to attend the meeting.

K. OF P.'S WIN THE PROTEST

Tie Game With Red Men is Decided in Their Favor

The managers of the Fraternal League Monday afternoon decided a protest of Manager Bert Conde of the K. of P. team over the game last Friday between the K. of P.'s and Red Men in favor of the K. of P.'s. The game ended in a tie, 8 to 8, having been called on account of darkness. The contention of the protest was that a runner who was sent back to third on account of a blocked ball should have scored. His scoring would have given the game to the K. of P.'s.

The next game in the fraternal League will be played between the Knights of Pythias and Elks.

ROADS IN CHINA.

They Remind One Very Much of
the Snakes in Ireland.

BECAUSE THERE ARE NONE.

What Apologies There Are For Them
Are a Great Deal Like the Bed of a Stone Quarry—The Torture That Goes With a Trip in a Peking Cart.

Describing the roads, or, rather, the lack of roads, in China and the torture that is undergone by the tourist who, used to the luxurious modes of travel we may employ, trusts himself to the uncertain joys of a trip in a Peking chair, a writer in the *Wide
World Magazine* says:

"Now, a Peking cart is a very venerable mode of progression. When our ancestors were lightly dressed in woad
and had no conception of any wheeled vehicle the Chinese lady was paying
her calls in the back of a Peking cart,
the seat of honor under the tilt, well
out of sight of the passers by, while her servant sat in front, the place of comfort, if such a word can be applied to anything pertaining to a Peking cart.

"In spite of its long and aristocratic record if there is any mode of progression more wearying and uncomfortable
I have not met it. It is simply a springless board set on a couple of wheels with a wagon tilt of blue cotton over it and a place for heavy luggage behind. The Chinaman sits on the floor and does not seem to mind, but
the ordinary westerner, like myself,
packs his bedding and all the cushions
he can beg or borrow around him and then resigns himself to his fate.

"The Peking cart has one advantage, people will tell you—it has nothing to break in it. But there are moments when it would be a mighty relief if something did break, for if the woodwork holds together as it tosses you from side to side you yourself are one sore, bruised mass. No; I cannot recommend a Peking cart, even on the smoother road.

"And the roads in China are not smooth. We all know the description of the snakes in Ireland. 'There are none,' and much the same might be said about the roads in China. There are so called roads, certainly, upon which the people move about, but I have seldom met one that was any better than the surrounding country,
and very, very often on this journey
I met roads where it was ease and luxury to move on them to the neighboring plowed field.

"The recipe for a road there in the north seems to be: Take a piece of the country that is really too bad to plow
or to use for any agricultural purpose whatever, that a mountain torrent, in fact, has given up too much for the water, upset a stone wall over it—a stone wall with good, large stones in
it—take care they never for a moment lie evenly, and you have your road.

"Leaving Peking for the eastern tomb, you go for the first two or three hours along a paved way of magnificent proportions planned and laid out as a highway should be. The great stones with which it is paved were probably put there by slave labor, how many hundred years ago I do not know, but the blocks are uneven now, though how a huge block of stone could possibly disappear passes my understanding, and whenever the carter could he took the cart down beside
the road, where at least the dust made
a cushion for the nail studded wheels,
and the jarring and the jolting were not quite so terrible.

"It takes as long to get beyond the environs of Peking in a cart as it does to get out of London in a motorcar.
First we passed through the Babylonian gate, and the great walls were behind us; then, outside the city, all looking dusty, dirty and khaki colored in
the brilliant sunshine, were numerous small houses, and the wayside was lined with booths on which were things for sale.

"Along the roadway came an endless array of people, clad for the most part in blue cotton—men walking, men with loads slung from a bamboo across their shoulders, donkeys laden with baskets or sacks of grain, with fat Chinese on their backs. There were Peking
ponies, and this busy throng is almost the same as it was a couple of thousand years ago.

"But it was a long, long while before I could feel I was really in the country. There was the khaki colored land, there were the khaki colored houses, built of mud apparently, with graceful tiled roofs, and blue clad people everywhere and everywhere at work.

"Always the fields were most beautifully tilled. There were no fences.
The Chinese are too civilized to need fences, and when you see stone walls
it is only because, since they can't be dropped off the planet into space, the stones must be disposed of somehow."

Paris For Politeness.
Translated rather crudely and literally, this is the notice in a Paris trolley car: "Messieurs, the passengers descending from the carriage are urged (literally "prayed"), before renouncing the shelter which the carriage they are about to quit offers them, to assure
themselves, as a preliminary, that no carriage coming in the opposite direction is in proximity."

Hope for the best, but work hard
for the result!

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure
Newspaper Syndicate.

"Halt! Who comes here?"
"Friends, with the countersign."
"Advance one and give the countersign."

It was the relief going the rounds to change the pickets, and I was dropped out at post No. 7. We had fought Lee all day long on the strangest battlefield of the whole war—in the Wilder-
front to rear, we were hemmed in by forest and thicket. There were swamps in which lizards and serpents lurked, thickets in which the coy Whippoor-will built its nest, dense spots of forest which seemed never to have echoed the ring of the woodman's ax.

Post No. 7 was under a large tree on the edge of a thicket. It was a lonely place, well away from the camps, the dead and the dying, but I was glad to be alone. I had been nearly an hour on the post without anything happening to alarm me, when I heard a person moving in the thicket across the open strip.

Rustle, rustle! Step, step! It was a cautious movement. Whoever it was had not met it. It is simply a springless board set on a couple of
wheels with a wagon tilt of blue cotton
over it and a place for heavy luggage
behind. The Chinaman sits on the floor and does not seem to mind, but
the ordinary westerner, like myself,
packs his bedding and all the cushions
he can beg or borrow around him and then resigns himself to his fate.

"Who comes here?"

There is silence for fifteen seconds,
and then a woman's voice answers:

"I can't find the place! It's so dark!
I can't find the place!"

Aye, it was a woman's voice, and it had a sob in it, too—a woman there in the darkness between the hostile lines
with powder smoke still in the air, with stray bullets darting through the thickets with a whiz as of some great insect stirred to anger.

"Who comes here?"

"I wish it wasn't so dark! I am so tired!"

And then she comes across the open strip toward me, making no stop, never hesitating, walking straight up to me, as if she could see as well by night as in the sunshine of day.

"I can't find the place!" she sobbed as she came to a stop within arm's length.

"Good God, woman, what are you doing here?" I gasped, almost terrified at her presence.

"See! See!" she replied, holding a bundle out toward me. "One time I saw a beautiful spot in the woods and said to myself that if he died I would bury him there, but I can't find it—I can't find it!"

"What is it, woman? What have you got there?"

"See! See! Don't be afraid. He's dead. He can't speak or move. Take him!"

She put a bundle into my arms, and I cried out and let my musket fall. It was the body of a baby about a year and a half old. Dead? Yes—dead from a cruel bullet which had pierced
its little body and left a great wound, which looked horrible to me in the dim light; dead, cold, and bathed in its own blood—dead for hours! And when I reached out and touched the shawl or wrap worn by the mother, my fingers burned at the feel of blood!

"Was it your baby? Did you live in the cabin beyond the thicket?" I asked,
still holding the little corpse.

"He was so happy!" she said as she patted the little bare head with a motherly hand. "And I was so happy too! He won't ever laugh and crow again, will he? I've got to find that beautiful place and bury him, haven't I? And you'll help me? Yes;
I know you will, for you don't swear
and curse at me."

She had lost her mind. Think of it—an insane mother wandering over a bloody battlefield with her dead child in her arms! She had but one idea to bury it in a dell which she had once visited and remarked its beauty, a dell
in which Federal and Confederate were doubtless then burying their own dead.

I knew not what to do. I could not leave my post, and I did not want her to go wandering farther. I was trying to soothe and quiet the woman when she suddenly cried out:

"Ah, it's not so dark now, and I can find the place! I'll go on ahead and dig the grave, and you follow on with the baby. Poor baby! He won't know that he is buried, will he? I can find the place, and you?"

"I'll find the place! Poor, poor baby!"

And when the relief came I told the story and pointed to the bundle resting on the ground beside me.

"God pity her!" whispered the sergeant as he lifted his cap.

"God pity her!" echoed all the others
as they stood uncovered around the poor little corpse.

Grant was moving by the flank. Lee was moving by the flank to match him.
The morrow was to witness more slaughter—make thousands of other widows and orphans.

"Dig here!" said the sergeant, and
with our bayonets we scooped out a shallow grave in scarcely more than a minute's time.

"Carefully now! Poor little thing!
Now fill in. That will do. God knows where it lies! Fall in! Forward, march!"

And yet men write of the glory of war!

HIGH LIVING COST HITS CAT FAMILY

Hote Kat in St. Louis is Almost Depopulated Because Expense
Was to Great For Miss Pattee

(By United Press.)

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 5.—The high cost of living virtually has depopulated Hotel Kat, one of the most exclusive catteries in the world. Hotel Kat is a local institution conducted by Miss Lena B. Pattee. It is a two-story brick building equipped with individual rooms for the occupants and a concrete courtyard in which the tabbies bask in the summer sun. Surrounding the court, to allay any suspicion of unduly wise cats that they are prisoners, vines grow in dense profusion and the wired walls and wild birds abounding in the leaves are calculated to keep alive the primitive element deemed essential in the nature of even the most refined cats. Each "apartment" is equipped with a window and swinging door, and white enamel on the walls adds to the general appearance of scrupulous cleanliness.

Miss Pattee has disposed of all but nine of her tenants. She had 150 at one time, but, she explains, the expense of providing steaks for some of them, fish for others and vegetables for the strict vegetarians of her flock became so great as the cost of food mounted that she had to find new homes for her pets.

NEW YELLOW PERIL FOUND

San Francisco, Oct. 2.—The "yellow peril" has hit the west coast in a new form—Chinese eggs. Nearly one and a half million of these came here last year. The last legislature regulated their importation and sale, but in a test case these laws were held unconstitutional. State authorities have asked the state supreme court for a judgement.

"See! See! Don't be afraid. He's dead. He can't speak or move. Take
him!"

She put a bundle into my arms, and I cried out and let my musket fall. It was the body of a baby about a year
from a cruel bullet which had pierced
its little body and left a great wound,
which looked horrible to me in the dim
light; dead, cold, and bathed in its own blood—dead for hours! And when I reached out and touched the shawl or
burned at the feel of blood!

"Was it your baby? Did you live in
still holding the little corpse.

patted the little bare head with a motherly hand. "And I was so happy
too! He won't ever laugh and
that beautiful place and bury him,
haven't I? And you'll help me? Yes;
I know you will, for you don't swear

REALTY HITS A NEW HIGH MARK

Transfer Records Show $163,212.32

Changed Hands During Last Half of September

STRAW BOARD SALE IN THAT

Even With $60,000 Clipped Off, Business For Period is Largest of Any in Many Months

A new high mark was established in local realty circles for total sales during fifteen days when the total amount of money changing hands, according to the real estate transfer records, the last half of September was $163,212.32.

Of course, the total was boosted by the sale of the Carthage straw board works by the receiver to R. H. Hill as trustee, but even with that $60,000 clipped off, the sales were exceedingly large. There were many big farm sales recorded during the period. The transfers are appended:

Emma Blesch et al. to Jacob and Rose Q. Gross, Part of lots 3 and 4 in Falmouth, (quit claim) $1.

Jesse F. Miller et al. to Lucien B. Miller, 140 acres in Anderson Twp., $12,132.32

OLD JUPITER GETTING EXTREMELY NEIGHBORLY.

Jupiter is getting extremely neighborly.

He's getting so close that pretty soon he will be leaning over the fence to borrow a cup of sugar from the earth, or asking the earth if it has two nickels for a dime, as he wants to telephone.

Jupiter is that especially brilliant star that is seen in the east in the evening, and a squint through a telescope, or even a pair of powerful field glasses, will reveal the fact that Jupiter is not alone, but is accompanied by four moons, also very brilliant.

And right now Jupiter is unusually near. He's only 400,000,000 miles away from the earth. Right now the planet is extremely brilliant when viewed through a telescope, and the four moons are also unusually bright. The reason for this is that Jupiter is nearer the earth now than he has been for eleven years, and that next year he will be nearer still. The year of Jupiter is twelve times as long as the earth's year, and the planet itself is 1,300 times the size of the earth. When Jupiter is farthest from the earth he is 600,000,000 miles away.

The best time to get acquainted with Jupiter is after 9 o'clock in the evening. Then he may be seen in all his glory, and if field glasses are used, moons and all will appear. Right next door, almost, Jupiter is—only 400,000,000 miles away. Also it would pay to be polite, for Jupiter, it is repeated, is 1,300 times "our size."

Italian War Dogs Are Making Dog History In The Present Conflict

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Rome, Aug. 22: (By Mail)—Reno is a real dog of war—not one of those symbolical dogs of war which typify the destructive onslaught of conflicting enemies. Yet Reno has done some pretty strenuous work against the enemy and as a result he is wearing a medal about his neck suspended by a tricolor ribbon.

Reno saved his master Lieutenant—in a hand-to-hand combat in Cadore. In consequence he is the Italy's dogs are playing an important part in the fierce struggle which is going on at the frontier. Austria has mobilized her canine soldiers with great success and today when dog meets dog in those mountainous confines of Italy's old provinces there are conflicts which would make dog history for all time.

The Italian war dogs are largely mastiffs. Reno is a big white "molosso" (mastiff) and is typical of all these faithful four-footed soldiers. The dogs are turned loose, unleashed from the trenches and go forth scouting, beating about in the brush and woods scenting the enemy's approach. When it happens that they run afoul of Austrian dog scouts, doing similar duty, there is warfare of the wildest kind. Fierce and bloody it lasts till one of them has given his life for his country.

The Italian war dogs are perfectly trained. They follow the columns on the march. When a conflict occurs the dogs become half mad with ferocity, baying and jumping and leaping as though they would tear the enemy to pieces.

Reno, following the column one day, beside his beloved master, saw a hand-to-hand combat between the Italian officer and an Austrian. The officer was struggling bravely but it was due to Reno that he was saved. Leaping at the Austrian's throat the mastiff dragged him to the ground piercing his jugular vein with his sharp teeth.

From that day on Reno has never left his lieutenant. He sleeps with him, and eats mess with him. When he is not in service he plays with the soldiers, deporting himself as any dog would who did not have a great world destiny hanging over his head.

The war dogs beside scout duty and actual fighting are or especial use in Italian campaigning for they carry flasks about their necks and in the mountain passes are first aid to many an injured Alpine soldier. Crescioni Michele who recovered his speech and hearing through the joy of seeing his lieutenant again, and Saturino Squillacciotti, Neapolitan, who regained his speech through hearing a nocturne of Chopins, offer two incidents among the many strange emotional happenings.

It is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that acts easily and pleasantly, without griping or other discomfort, and quickly relieves constipation, indigestion, flatulency and other disorders of the stomach, liver, and bowels. It is as safe and pleasant for baby as it is thoroughly effective for older people. One of the standard remedies we recommend to our customers because it always gives satisfaction.

RHEUMATISM

Physician Believes a Genuine Remedy For The Disease Has Been Found

Rheuma, the wonderful rheumatism remedy sold by Johnson's Drug Store and all druggists at 50 cents a bottle gives quicker and more lasting relief than other remedies costing many times as much.

Rheuma passes the deadly poisonous secretions into the bowels and kidneys, from which they are quickly thrown off in a natural, healthy way.

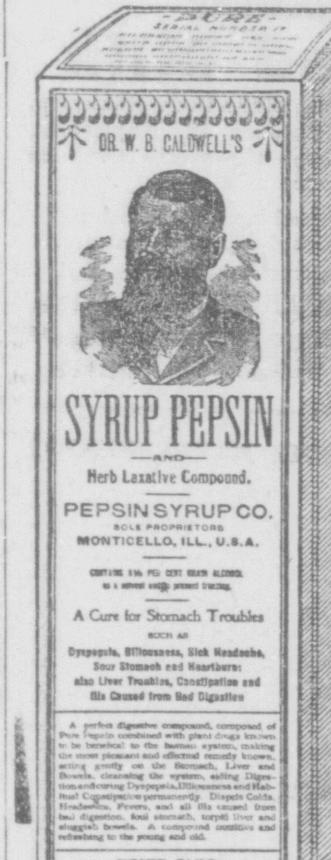

Read what a reputable physician says about Rheuma: "I have made a most careful investigation of the formula employed in the manufacture of Rheuma, and I heartily recommend it as a remedy for all forms of rheumatism. I find Rheuma far in advance of the methods generally employed in the treatment of rheumatism, and altogether different in composition, from the remedies usually prescribed."

This should give any sufferer from rheumatism confidence in trying Rheuma. The Rheuma, Co. guarantee it.

DIGNITY OF SENATE CHAMBER MUSSED

Baby Show Opens in Indianapolis With Babies of Every Description Present

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—The dignity of the state senate chamber was all mussed up today for hundreds of babies of all descriptions (save one) took part in a free-for-all competition to determine who is the best baby in Indianapolis. Colored babies were not present. They will have their inning tomorrow morning.

This was "Baby week" for Indianapolis. The primary object of the week is to instruct the public in such a way as to reduce baby mortality.

Governor Ralston risked his political future today by taking an active part in praising various youngsters. The spectators were relegated to the galleries. Only mothers with babies were permitted on the senate floor.

MINNEAPOLIS GOES "WET"

Declines to Become Largest "Dry" City in United States

Minneapolis, Oct. 5.—Minneapolis has declined to become the largest "dry" city in the United States. Today's footings of Monday's special election figures show that the "wets" defeated county option by 8,950 majority.

The voters ultimatum came as a distinct shock to the anti-saloon workers who confidently expected a sweeping victory.

NEW DEMOCRATIC WEEKLY TO APPEAR

Venture Will be Edited by Horace Herr And Will be For Wilson-Bryan Democrats

TO BE PUBLISHED SUNDAY

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—Democrats who distinguish themselves as Wilson-Bryan Democrats are about to have a newspaper that will express their views. Horace H. Herr announced today that the first issue of the Indiana Forum will be published Sunday morning, Oct. 10 in this city. Herr, who recently retired from the editorship of the Indiana Times, is the editor and publisher of the new venture.

An indication of the part the weekly will play in Indiana factional politics was given by Herr today. He said, "The paper will endeavor to keep out of factional and sectional politics and will stand for the fundamentals of democracy as exemplified in the President, Senator Kern and Vice President Marshall.

John R. Jones of Plymouth, Ind., father of the Jones Primary Law, has joined the staff and R. B. Troy will have charge of the advertising department. The paper will have the full leased wire report of the United Press and will give a review of the news and editorial comment of the state. Herr recently returned from Europe where he visited the various fronts as war reporter.

LARGE CLAIM COMPROMISED

About $30 a Week Demanded, But Physician Testifies it Was Not Worth More Than $10 a Week

The claim of Jessie L. Alexander, administratrix of the estate of Leander Veatch, against the estate, in which the demand was $6,593, was compromised late yesterday afternoon for $1,850. Under the terms of the agreement the case was taken from the jury and Special Judge Thomas E. Davidson was allowed to find for Mrs. Alexander against the estate. Under the agreement, John H. Kiplinger and B. F. Miller were allowed $350 for defending the action against the estate.

The sudden ending of the case came as no great surprise following the testimony of several of the witnesses. A total of seven witnesses had been examined when the case was compromised. The plaintiff asked something like thirty dollars a week for a period of four years for caring for the late Mr. Veatch. Dr. Shawek of Arlington threw a bomb into the case for the plaintiff when he testified that in his opinion the service performed by Mrs. Alexander would be worth on an average of ten dollars a week.

The case would have required two days and as a result today had been given to the case on the court calendar. For this reason there was no court today, although Judge Sparks was here and transacted some business.

The case of Frank Boots against Warren W. Robbins, on a note demanding $250, ended when Judge Sparks found for Boots in the sum of $216 and $15 attorneys fees. Robbins' attorney withdrew his appearance and the defendant allowed judgement to be taken by default.

The court also found for the plaintiff, James F. Hargrove in his suit against Frank Lucas, and William P. Lucas, on a note demanding $150. Hargrove was given judgement for $116.01 and $10.80 attorney fees. The defendants in this case also defaulted.

John Manche and John Sparks of Ripley township have adjusted their difficulties and as a result the two suits against Sparks filed by Manche were dismissed today. One of the suit was an account and the other was for damages, demanding $100. This last case was sent here on an appeal from Squire, Bishop's court. Manche alleged that Sparks allowed his horses to enter his clover field and based his claim for damages on this. The appeal was taken to the circuit court by Manche. The costs in both suits were paid when they were dismissed.

Charles W. Hinkle, Mathew Kerner, Horace S. Conrad, Christopher Johnson, Alfretta Johnson and David H. Hudelson have filed a petition in the circuit court for the construction of a drain. The proposed drain is in Center township.

Stacy Hinkle, who has been attending school at Pittsburgh, has quit to accept a position with the government surveying on a tract of land of one hundred thousand acres in Utah, about 150 miles south of Salt Lake City.

The county commissioners will be in session again Saturday. They did nothing yesterday but allow the usual claims.

WILL BE TRIED SATURDAY
One of Carthage Negroes Succeeds in Eluding Arrest

William Newsom and Jenary Scott the two colored people of Carthage who were arrested yesterday as a result of the disturbance at a church social there last Friday night, will be given a hearing Saturday morning at nine o'clock before Squire Kratzer. When arraigned yesterday afternoon they pleaded not guilty. In addition to these two there is a warrant for Edgar Archey. Archey could not be found in Carthage yesterday by Constable Ray Lakin. Archey and Newsom are charged with disturbing a public meeting. There is also an assault and battery charge against Archey.

PREPARES TO LEAVE CITY

The Rev. A. D. Batchelor, former pastor of St. Paul's M. E. church, arrived home from the Indiana M. E. conference at Indianapolis Monday evening and today was making preparations to move to Northport, Long Island, a Brooklyn suburb, to become pastor of the Methodist church there. It was announced Monday that the Rev. Mr. Batchelor had been sent from the Indiana conference to New York state, but the exact location was not given out. The Rev. Mr. Batchelor came to the pastorate of the local church two years ago from Martinsville, where the Rev. V. W. Tevis, retired superintendent of this district, was assigned Monday.

Friends of the Rev. John S. Ward who was pastor of the First church at Shelbyville, had sought to have him appointed superintendent of the Connersville district and it was predicted he would be named, but the Rev. C. E. Bacon was picked for superintendent instead.

James E. Watson was re-elected a member of the board of trustees of Moores Hill college.

MECHANICIAN IS KILLED AT SPEEDWAY

CAR GOING 86 MILES AN HOUR

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—Albert Johnson, age 25, expert mechanician, was fatally injured and Ross Robinson, age 21, was seriously injured when the car they were testing at the Speedway turned over while going at a speed of 86 miles an hour. Johnson died in an Indianapolis hospital last night. Both men are from Detroit. Although the accident occurred late yesterday, it was not known in this city until the coroner gave out the details today.

Stacy Hinkle, who has been attending school at Pittsburgh, has quit to accept a position with the government surveying on a tract of land of one hundred thousand acres in Utah, about 150 miles south of Salt Lake City.

The county commissioners will be in session again Saturday. They did nothing yesterday but allow the usual claims.

Probable That Industrial Parade Will Take Place Wednesday Instead of Thursday

The program is being made out for the eighth annual horse show and fall festival. Only two weeks intervene until the time for the horse show rolls around and the committees in charge have much work ahead of them.

It is stated that the industrial parade will be held Wednesday, instead of Thursday, as was the case last year. Many suggestions have been made that the parade be held earlier in the week because business men who will have entries are anxious not to spend the whole week when the show is taking place preparing their floats.

Some slight changes will be made in the program, it is stated. The horse show proper will be opened formally at ten o'clock on Tuesday morning, October 26, with the parade of horses entered in the show. The awarding of premiums will not get under way until one o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

Another change will be made in the order of the show so that school children will be able to show their entries in the pony show. This class was set for Wednesday afternoon and evening last year so that children would not have to be out of school, but it will be the first thing on the program Thursday morning because there will be no school in Rushville on Thursday and Friday of that week on account of the meeting of the state teachers association in Indianapolis.

It was thought best by those in charge not to hold the pony show at night this year because there will be a fireworks display every night of Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The pony show Thursday morning will be followed by the light harness class, which is the class that brings out the best competition and the largest crowds. Three extra events have been added to the light harness class this year.

In addition to the fireworks each night, there will be airship flights over the city each morning at eleven o'clock and each afternoon at four on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The combination sale will be held on Friday and Saturday and it is hoped to make it the biggest one ever held here.

HANLEY'S PAPER APPEARS

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—The National Enquirer published by former Governor J. Frank Hanley, which appeared for the first time today, announced in its leading editorial that its purpose is the "abolition through this Republic of the beverage of liquor traffic—the abolition of the beverage liquor traffic by federal constitutional amendment." It is a sixteen-page weekly. Hanley was the prime mover in the Flying Squadron.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church will hold an exchange in the Helm room in North Main street Saturday.

(By United Press.) London, Oct. 5.—Russia's 24-hour ultimatum was not handed to the Bulgarian foreign office until four o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to Petrograd dispatches received here today. Since the 24-hour period in which Bulgaria must reply did not begin until the ultimatum was delivered, Bulgaria has until four o'clock this afternoon, Petrograd time, in which to back down on her menacing attitude.

The Russian minister at Sofia was instructed to hand Russia's message to the Bulgarian office at 4 p. m. Sunday and leave Sofia at the same hour yesterday if no satisfactory answer was given.

All telegraphic messages to and from Bulgaria have been greatly delayed and it is believed that the text of the ultimatum did not reach the Russian legation at Sofia until yesterday. In some quarters, Petrograd dispatches assert, it was believed the Bulgarian censor may have purposely held up the communication to give his government time to complete its mobilization, though this opinion was not shared by the Russian foreign office.

FRENCH HILL RECAPTURED

(By United Press.) Berlin, Oct. 5.—The allies attempt to break the German lines in the west not only failed but it did not even alter the military plans of the German general staff, it was stated.

No new regiments were sent to the western front to meet the Anglo-French attack, it was officially stated. One division was about to leave the front for another scene of action, but was detained and no reinforcements were sent.

German troops not only repulsed all enemy attacks on enemy fronts yesterday by reoccupying a trench on a hill northwest of Givenchy, the war office announced this afternoon.

GERMAN TRAIN EXPLODED

French War Office, However, Claims no Further Victories

(By United Press.) Paris, Oct. 5.—French artillery exploded a train north of Verdun, according to the war office statement this afternoon, which claimed no further progress for the allies at any point.

GREEK VESSELS SHELLED

(By United Press.) Athens, Oct. 5.—Three Greek sailing vessels were pursued and shelled by Bulgarians revenue cutters in the Aegean Sea, according to reports received here today. The sailing barks escaped undamaged but the incident has caused much excitement here.

William Pettit Testifies in Bell Trial Policeman Got Him Out of The Work House

CHIEF OF WRECKING CREW

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., October 5.—William Pettit testified today in the Mayor Bell election conspiracy trial that a police officer got him out of the work house to register on registration day and that later he was appointed "chief of the wrecking crew" at the polls by William E. Clauer, clerk of the board of safety.

Pettit is the witness whose mysterious disappearance led to the report that the state and defense were fighting for him. Recently he was returned here suddenly from an Ohio city.

Pettit said that when he received his appointment from Clauer he was told the police wouldn't interfere with him. He then told of violence at the polls.

The W. R. C. will have a called meeting Wednesday afternoon to transact all business that would come before a regular meeting. All members are urged to be present.

ARABIC SINKING IS DISAVOWED

Lusitania Incident is Also Brought to End by Note From Germany This Afternoon

Now That Controversy is Over White House Will Begin Negotiations With British

BULLETIN

(By United Press.) Washington, Oct. 5.—All the differences between the United States and Germany are practically disposed of by a letter handed by Ambassador Bernstorff to Secretary Lansing this afternoon in which the sinking of the Arabic was specifically disavowed.

Statements from the state department and the white house plainly indicate that the effect of the note is to wipe out the Lusitania controversy as well as that of the Arabic.

"Now that the Arabic case is settled, the American note regarding the British order and the general trade interference will be shortly dispatched," it was learned at the white house on high authority.

"Progress has been made"—Secretary Lansing.

"The Arabic problem is settled"—Ambassador Bernstorff.

That was the status, variously interpreted—of the negotiations between Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Bernstorff regarding the sinking of the Arabic as expressed by the two diplomats following a twenty-minute conference earlier in the day.

That the German agent presented a practically satisfactory form of disavowal of the sinking of the vessel, was the general belief though Secretary Lansing declined to say whether any document has been exchanged.

Secretary Lansing called at the white house and saw the president concerning his conference with Bernstorff, and soon afterwards the German note was given out.

Wednesday, October 6th, 1915

ALL IMMUNE AND GUARANTEED CHOLERA PROOF

I am putting up the best lot I have ever had, both as to breeding and individuality. Thirty Fall yearling gilts, 16 February and March boars, 12 to 15 Spring gilts—about 61 head in all. All have had the double serum treatment for prevention of cholera. I fully guarantee them to be immune from that disease. I will make anyone a present of any one of them he finds with a bad back or broken down pasterns. They have not been stuffed; are in just moderate flesh. In shape to go on and do you good. All of this offering are sired by Col. Jackson II 31331. He is bred the same as Defender, the twice champion at International Stock show. Their sires were full brothers, and their dams both sired by Orion Chief. The dams are by Long Chief 35981, full brother to Cherry King, Fancy Col. and Orion Col. M. Anyone at all acquainted with the breed knows that they were among the very highest, tip-top show and breeding boars of the breed. Come and see them and buy a good yearling sow that the stamina has not been fed out of.

TERMS—Made known day of sale. Strangers from a distance wanting credit will please bring with them their latest home bank reference, and settle with notes their home bank will accept.

MORGAN DISCUSSES ISSUE

(By United Press)

New York, Oct. 5.—Placing the $500,000,000 worth of Anglo-French war loan bonds on the New York stock exchange and signing of the formal agreement between the financial agents of England and France and American bankers are now the next step in handling the biggest war loan the world ever knew.

The syndicate books were closed at 10 a. m. today. It was reported in Wall street that applications received totaled $500,000,000. J. P. Morgan received newspaper men this afternoon.

BRYANT TAKES UP NEW LINE

Understood That he Will Turn Towards Religious Field

(By United Press)

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 5.—That William Jennings Bryan is fully aware of the extent and scope of his present unpopularity, but that he is buoyed up by the confident belief that he will be vindicated by future events, became known to the ex-secretary of state's close friends during his recent visit to his Lincoln home.

It is well understood here that Bryan intends to turn more toward religious work, not becoming an out-and-out evangelist like Sanday, but using his great gifts on the platform in a somewhat related line of work.

The Secret of Keeping

(The Beauty Doctor)
The secret of keeping young, looking youthful and keeping well-known symptoms, "to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these required, poisonous waste products remain in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes fatigued, sleepless, mentally stupid, and aged, etc.

"But the liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil after-effects, has been the problem. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its value is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble bay leaf, which, when valued, is called "Santolan." It is this because of its effectiveness, though of course it is not to be classed with the real calomel of medicinal origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in "Santolan" tablets—that is the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to tonify and vivify, and are selected to meet all needs. Santolan tablets, which may be procured from any druggist, a dime's worth will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

(Messenger of Health)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, boils, blotches, sallow or mucky, usually occur on a sanguine liver, a constipated bowel, and a polluted blood-stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to recur to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is healthful and quick-acting. It is an old remedy, and recommended by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Santolan tablets"—that is the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only get about three dimes worth, and a sallow skin, at bed-time, will be gone. There's nothing else quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening aftereffect, you feel truly refreshed and invigorated. Santolan tablets are not only the safest remedy known for complexion and torpid liver, but of all the most sensible treatments for complexion and difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New
Constipation Remedy

"They say that the advent of the "Santolan" tablets, as a vegetable substitute for calomel, has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize its advantages over calomel and the usual medicines."

"Santolan tablets, aside from their amazing, doubtless, owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of encouraging the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert no irritating influence, and, therefore, in no way damage the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the widely acting purgatives. Their inexpensiveness is another reason for the popularity of Santolan tablets. One need procure only a dime's worth, and the same will go a long way to be sufficient for daily remedy for constipation, torpid liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found.—Druggists' Herald."

The Treasury Deficit

The deficit in the United States treasury this fiscal year amounted to $31,593,180, according to a new form of the treasury department which became effective Monday. The deficit is twice as great as last fiscal year, when the government ran behind $15,781,199—this, too, in spite of the "war tax." The deficit is exclusive of Panama canal and public transactions.

The new form of statement caused the net balance in the treasury to take a new upward bound, but in reality there was no more money in the treasury according to Washington advice. The last net balance reported in the old form was about $40,000,000 and the first under the new form was $128,369,899.

The editor of the Newcastle Times comes to the defense of Willis S.

Thompson paid press agent of Democratic machine in Indiana, intimating that Mr. Thompson is in need of a defense. It is Mr. Thomas who is furnishing Democratic newspapers throughout the state with "dope" and "boiler plate." Undoubtedly he would not need defense if his job were created for the purpose of boosting Democracy in general, but since his position came into being some time before certain gentlemen were placed on trial in Indiana for alleged corruption conspiracy, it looks suspiciously like he was working for individuals rather than party.

If John D. Rockfeller, Jr., and the Colorado miners get together and stop fussing, as it now appears they would, what will the demagogues and walking delegates do for thunder—and wages?

If the average American citizen were as devoted to his country as to his favorite baseball team, we would never need have any fear of being licked by an enemy.

The first important crucifixion to

The second was that of civilization

WOMEN CAN FINANCE
GREAT BRITAIN'S WAR

London, Sept. 15 (By Mail)—
"The women of England by their efforts can finance this war and it would be good if they band themselves together and sign an economy pledge."

This is but one of the conclusions arrived at by the Parliamentary War Savings Committee, which has solicited the help of experts to advise the housewife and the civil population the vital need of wartime thrift. Other general suggestions are:

"No person should build a house to reside in himself."

Any presents given should be war loan vouchers or bonds.

Entertaining at restaurants should be entirely abandoned.

Changes of fashion in clothes should be ignored or suppressed.

Funerals should be conducted always with rigid economy.

Every possible servant should be given up.

No motor cars should be used except for charitable or official purposes.

All "treating" should be abandoned until we can toast a final and complete victory.

DEMOCRATS ARE ALWAYS FIRST

Three Cases Are Cited to Show Important Appointments Always go to Party Men

RESERVE BOARD NOTABLE ONE

Only Members of Federal Trade Commission Has Shadow of Claim on Republicanism

Washington, Oct. 5.—The motto of this administration is "Put none but Democrats on guard." The deficiency of foreign relations, the gravity of national affairs makes no difference. Business, finance and diplomacy, in which there is no real partisanship, are given a partisan tinge by this administration and the "deserving Democrats" have been recognized. Some of them were later fully found out, as in the case of Minister Sullivan who went to San Domingo.

This spirit of bitter and intense partisanship has been strangely inconsistent with the fact that this is a minority administration—but consistency has long since ceased to be an administration virtue.

The first evidence of the unyielding partisan purpose of the Democrats came, naturally, with the loot-ing of the foreign service—though in this there was the attenuated excuse that diplomatic representatives are the personal spokesmen for the President and should be in political sympathy with him.

Then came the naming of the Federal Reserve Board. The currency bill was as much a Republican measure as a Democratic measure. Its most useful features were those which were taken from the late Senator Aldrich's plan—and these were put into the bill chiefly at Republican insistence. At any rate, the measure was supposed to be non-partisan in its operation and national in its scope. Yet the choice of the reserve cities demonstrated a jealous sectionalism run riot, and when the original personnel of the Board was named it had none but Democrats upon it. Even now it has no member recognized as an out-and out Republican.

The Federal Trade Commission is another case in point. This board, national and even international in its jurisdiction, was advertised in advance as to be made up of the greatest minds in the land, regardless of polities. The appointments were delayed for months in order, it said, to permit the choice of the very best men. Yet only one of the appointees has a shadow of a claim to being a Republican.

And now comes a third instance.
Secretary McAdoo has just selected the International High Commission which was authorized by the Pan-American financial congress last spring and which will constitute the court of last resort in case of friction in the trade relations between this country and Latin America.

This body will have some delicate functions to perform and, though trade is non-partisan, there is only one of the nine men whom Mr. Mc-Adoo has chosen who is recognized at once as a Republican.

It may be that the Democratic party has a monopoly of the brains and the ability in this country. There are at least two opinions about that.

But there is only one opinion as to the purpose of the present administration to grab everything in sight for "deserving Democrats," while the grabbing is good.

A Deathbed Triumph

By WILLIAM CHANDLER

An old man lay on the bed of death.
A doctor sat by him intent upon some method of saving his life. An entirely different problem was in the mind of the sufferer.

"Doctor," he said presently, "can't you die for a short time, then come to life again for a certain purpose?"

"What purpose?" asked the doctor.

The invalid cast his eyes about the room to see that no one was present, then, stretching forth his hand, drew the doctor to him and whispered what he had to say. When he came to a pause the doctor said:

"I have suspected as much."

"Can it be done?" asked the invalid.

"It can be tried."

Some more conversation followed, in which the doctor gave the sick man instructions, and the sick man did the same by the doctor. Then the latter ended the matter by saying:

"Are you ready?"

"Yes."

The doctor took from his medicine case a tablet and placed it in the patient's mouth.

The sick man, who was lying on his back, stared at the ceiling, immovable.
The doctor went hurriedly to the door and opened it. There stood the wife of the invalid.

"Madam," said the doctor, "I fear that your husband is dead."

The woman hurried into the room and stood over the sickbed for a few moments looking down into the pale face.

The doctor, who was beside her, closed the eyes of her husband, then led her away, saying:

"This has been a long trial to you.
Your watch is now over. Go and rest yourself."

She suffered herself to be led away and within an hour was in bed and asleep.

Paul Markham passed away at dawn the next morning. Preparations were made for the funeral, which was held three days later, and on the fourth day his widow, who was his second wife, and her two children by a former husband, all dressed in deep mourning, entered the drawing room of the house in which Mr. Markham had died and took seats. A number of other persons, including a lawyer, entered, and when all were seated the attorney unfolded a document and was about to begin its reading when Dr.
Blanchard, who had attended the deceased, entered in company with a girl of fifteen. There was about her a melancholy that savored of despair.

WINS AT LEXINGTON, KY.

Harrie Jones, the local horseman, driving Fay Richmond yesterday in the 2:07 pace at the Grand Circuit meet in Lexington, Ky., won the race easily over a field of ten starters. The race was for two heats out of three and Jones won in straight heats. The purse was for \$1,000. The best time was 2:03 $\frac{1}{4}$ made in the second heat. Jones had everything his own way in the first heat taking the heat in 2:06 $\frac{1}{4}$. In the second and final heat he was pushed by Our Colonel, but Fay Richmond had the speed.

What with the high engulfing collars, the all swathing mufflers and the all enveloping fur neck pieces I fear me chinning will become a lost pastime. For chins will be more than receding this season they will be absolutely retired from public gaze. Alas the poor swain who yearns to espouse a damsel with the weak chin and plastic temperment of the clinging vine may discover to his consternation after marriage when he first glimpses her chin unmuffled that she has the firm and stable jaw structure of the advanced feminist.

This ought to be a most successful season for the lady with the triple chins. She is sure to own a collection of mufflers from A to Z for she knows that to her joy that two chins in a muffler are as good as one in the open day.

It ought to offer wonderful opportunities for reduction also for a rubber chin strap could be worn efficaciously and unseen beneath the muffler and even the muffler on its own account ought to due any known or unknown quantity of chins without any gatapera aid.

Whether you be chinny or chinless however, you'd better muffle up in a muffler or you'll muffle the hit of the season.

K. OF P.'S WIN THE PROTEST

Tie Game With Red Men is Decided in Their Favor

The managers of the Fraternal League Monday afternoon decided a protest of Manager Bert Conde of the K. of P. team over the game last Friday between the K. of P.'s and Red Men in favor of the K. of P.'s. The game ended in a tie, 8 to 8, having been called on account of darkness. The contention of the protest was that a runner who was sent back to third on account of a blocked ball should have scored. His scoring would have given the game to the K. of P.'s.

The next game in the fraternal League will be played between the Knights of Pythias and Elks.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. It is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

ROADS IN CHINA.

the Snakes in Ireland.

BECAUSE THERE ARE NONE.

What Apologies There Are For Them
Are a Great Deal Like the Bed of a
Goes With a Trip in a Peking Cart.

Describing the roads, or, rather, the lack of roads, in China and the torture
that is undergone by the tourist who, used to the luxuriant modes of travel we may employ, trusts himself
to the uncertain joys of a trip in a
World Magazine* says:

"Now, a Peking cart is a very venerable
mode of progression. When our
and had no conception of any wheeled
her calls in the back of a Peking cart,
the seat of honor under the tilt, well
out of sight of the passers by, while
her servant sat in front, the place of
comfort, if such a word can be applied
to anything pertaining to a Peking cart.

"In spite of its long and aristocratic record if there is any mode of progression
more wearying and uncomfortable
I have not met it. It is simply a springless board set on a couple of
wheels with a wagon tilt of blue cotton
over it and a place for heavy luggage
behind. The Chinaman sits on the floor and does not seem to mind, but
the ordinary westerner, like myself,
packs his bedding and all the cushions
he can beg or borrow around him and then resigns himself to his fate.

"The Peking cart has one advantage,
people will tell you—it has nothing to break in it. But there are moments when it would be a mighty relief if something did break; for if the wood-
from side to side you yourself are one
sore, bruised mass. No; I cannot recommend a Peking cart, even on the smoother road.

"And the roads in China are not smooth. We all know the description of the snakes in Ireland. There are none, and much the same might be said about the roads in China. There
which the people move about, but I have seldom met one that was any
better than the surrounding country,
and very, very often on this journey
I met roads where it was ease and luxury to move off them on to the neighboring plowed field.

north seems to be: Take a piece of the country that is really too bad to plow
or to use for any agricultural purpose whatever, that is mountain, torrent, in fact, has given up as too much for the water, upset a stone wall over it—a stone wall with good, large stones in
it—take care they never for a moment lie evenly, and you have your road.

"Leaving Peking for the eastern tomb, you go for the first two or three hours along a paved way of magnificent proportions planned and laid out as a highway should be. The great stones with which it is paved were probably put there by slave labor, how many hundred years ago. I do not know, but the blocks are uneven now, some of them are gone altogether,
though how a huge block of stone could possibly disappear passes my understanding, and whenever the carrier could he took the cart down beside
the road, where at least the dust made
a cushion for the nail studded wheels,
and the jarring and the jolting were
not quite so terrible.

"It takes as long to get beyond the
environs of Peking in a cart as it does
to get out of London in a motorcar.
First we passed through the Babylon-
ian gate, and the great walls were
behind us; then, outside the city, all look-
small houses, and the wayside was
lined with booths on which were
things for sale.

"Along the roadway came an endless
in blue cotton—men walking, men with
loads slung from a bamboo across
their shoulders, donkeys laden with
baskets or sacks of grain, with fat Chinese on their backs. There were Peking
ponies, and this busy throng is almost
sand years ago.

"But it was a long, long while before I could feel I was really in the
land, there were the khaki colored
houses, built of mud apparently, with graceful tiled roofs, and blue clad people everywhere and everywhere at work.

"Always the fields were most beautifully tilled. There were no fences.
The Chinese are too civilized to need
fences, and when you see stone walls
it is only because, since they can't be dropped off the planet into space, the

Paris For Politeness.
Translated rather crudely and literally, this is the notice in a Paris trolley car: "Messieurs, the passengers descending from the carriage are urged (literally "prayed"), before renouncing
the shelter which the carriage they are
themselves, as a preliminary, that no
carriage coming in the opposite direction is in proximity."

Hope for the best but work hard
for the result.

HERE?"

By M. QUAD
Newspaper Syndicate.

"Halt! Who comes here?"
"Friends, with the countersign."
"Advance one and give the counter-
sign."

It was the relief going the rounds to
out at post No. 7. We had fought Lee
all day long on the strangest battle-
front to rear, we were hemmed in by forest and thicket. There were swamps
in which lizards and serpents lurked, thickets in which the coy Whippoor-
will built its nest, dense spots of forest which seemed never to have echoed
the ring of the woodman's ax.

Post No. 7 was under a large tree on the edge of a thicket. It was a lonely
place, well away from the camps, the
dead and the dying, but I was glad to
on the post without anything happening to alarm me, when I heard a person moving in the thicket across the open strip.

"Rustle, rustle! Step, step! It was a cautious movement. Whoever it was hoped to reach me without discovery,
but there were dead leaves underfoot,
and the thicket was dense. A hare could not have moved without betraying its presence.

"Who comes here?"
There is silence for fifteen seconds,
and then a woman's voice answers:

"I can't find the place! It's so dark
I can't find the place!"

Aye, it was a woman's voice, and it had a sob in it too—a woman there in
the darkness between the hostile lines
with powder smoke still in the air,
with stray bullets darting through the
thickets with a whiz as of some great insect stirred to anger.

"Who comes here?"
"I wish it wasn't so dark! I am so tired!"

And then she comes across the open strip toward me, making no stop, never hesitating, walking straight up to me, as if she could see as well by night as in the sunshine of day.

"I can't find the place!" she sobbed
as she came to a stop within arm's length.

"Good God, woman, what are you doing here?" I gasped, almost terrified at her presence.

"See! See!" she replied, holding a bundle out toward me. "One time I saw a beautiful spot in the woods and
bury him there, but I can't find it—I can't find it!"

"What is it, woman? What have you got there?"

"See! See! Don't be afraid. He's dead. He can't speak or move. Take him!"

She put a bundle into my arms, and I cried out and let my musket fall.
It was the body of a baby about a year and a half old. Dead? Yes—dead
from a cruel bullet which had pierced
its little body and left a great wound,
which looked horrible to me in the dim light; dead and cold and bathed in its own blood—dead for hours! And when I reached out and touched the shawl or wrap worn by the mother my fingers burned at the feel of blood!

"Was it your baby? Did you live in
the cabin beyond the thicket?" I asked,
still holding the little corpse.

"He was so happy!" she said as she
patted the little bare head with a motherly hand. "And I was so happy too! He won't ever laugh and cry again, will he? I've got to find that beautiful place and bury him,
haven't I? And you'll help me? Yes!"

I know you will, for you don't swear
and curse at me."

She had lost her mind. Think of an insane mother wandering over a bloody battlefield with her dead child
in her arms! She had but one idea
to bury it in a dell which she had once
visited and remarked its beauty, a dell
in which Federal and Confederate were
doubtless then burying their own dead.

I knew not what to do. I could not leave my post, and I did not want her to go wandering farther. I was trying to soothe and quiet the woman when she suddenly cried out:

"Ah, it's not so dark now, and I can find the place! I'll go on ahead and
dig the grave, and you follow on with the baby. Poor baby! He won't know that he is buried, will he? I can find the place, and you!"

She was back in the thicket, and I was left alone in the darkness.

"God pity her!" whispered the sergeant as he lifted his cap.

"God pity her!" echoed all the others
as they stood uncovered around the poor little corpse.

Grant was moving by the flank. Lee was moving by the flank to match him. The morrow was to witness more slaughter—make thousands of other widows and orphans.

"Dig here," said the sergeant, and
with our bayonets we scooped out a shallow grave in scarcely more than a minute's time.

"Carefully now! Poor little thing!
Now fill in. That will do. God knows where it lies! Fall in! Forward march!"

"And yet men write of the glory of

HIGH LIVING COST HITS CAT FAMILY

Note Kat in St. Louis is Almost De-

(By United Press.)

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 5.—The high cost of living virtually has depopulated Hotel Kat, one of the most exclusive cateries in the world. Hotel Kat is a local institution conducted by Miss Lena B. Pattee. It is a two-story brick building equipped with individual rooms for the occupants and a concrete courtyard in which the tabbies bask in the summer sun. Surrounding the court, to allay any suspicion of unduly wise cats that they are prisoners, vines grow in dense profusion and the wired walls and wild birds abounding in the leaves are calculated to keep alive the primitive element deemed essential in the nature of even the most refined cats. Each "apartment" is equipped with a window and swinging door, and white enamel on the walls adds to the general appearance of scrupulous cleanliness.

Rustle, rustle! Step, step! It was a cautious movement. Whoever it was hoped to reach me without discovery,
but there were dead leaves underfoot,
and the thicket was dense. A hare
could not have moved without betraying its presence.

"Who comes here?"
There is silence for fifteen seconds,
and then a woman's voice answers:

"I can't find the place! It's so dark
I can't find the place!"

Aye, it was a woman's voice, and it had a sob in it too—a woman there in
the darkness between the hostile lines
with powder smoke still in the air,
with stray bullets darting through the
thickets with a whiz as of some great insect stirred to anger.

"Who comes here?"
"I wish it wasn't so dark! I am so tired!"

And then she comes across the open strip toward me, making no stop, never hesitating, walking straight up to me,
as if she could see as well by

* * * * * OLD JUPITER GETTING * * * * * EXTREMELY NEIGHBORLY. * * * * *

Jupiter is getting extremely neighborly.

He's getting so close that pretty soon he will be leaning over the fence to borrow a cup of sugar from the earth, or asking the earth if it has two nickels for a dime, as he wants to telephone.

Jupiter is that especially brilliant star that is seen in the east in the evening, and a squint through a telescope, or even a pair of powerful field glasses, will reveal the fact that Jupiter is not alone, but is accompanied by four moons, also very brilliant.

And right now Jupiter is unusually near. He's only 400,000,000 miles away from the earth. Right now the planet is extremely brilliant when viewed through a telescope, and the four moons are also unusually bright. The reason for this is that Jupiter is nearer the earth now than he has been for eleven years, and that next year he will be never still. The year of Jupiter is twelve times as long as the earth's year, and the planet itself is 1,300 times the size of the earth. When Jupiter is farthest from the earth he is 600,000,000 miles away.

The best time to get acquainted with Jupiter is after 9 o'clock in the evening. Then he may be seen in all his glory, and if field glasses are used, moons and all will appear. Right next door, almost, Jupiter is—only 400,000,000 miles away. Also it would pay to be polite, for Jupiter, it is repeated, is 1,300 times "our size."

* * * * * SALE BILLS OF OLDE DAYS * * * * *

(Grain Valley, Mo. Herald.)

"James Armstrong last week handed us an old sale bill posted during the days of slavery in Missouri, and which shows quite a contrast to the sale bills of today. The bill reads:

"State of Missouri, county of Pike. To whom it may concern. The undersigned will on Tuesday, September 29, 1846, sell at public outcry, on my premises, where old coon creek crosses Mission road, the following chattels, to-wit: Six yoke of oxen with yoke and chains, three bedsteads with beds, three nigger wench, four nigger bucks, three nigger boys, four nigger girls, two prairie plows, one barrel cabbage, one lot of nigger hoes, one hoghead of tobacco, one spinning wheel, one loom, 23 fox hounds, all well trained, a lot of coon, mink and skunk-hides and a lot of other articles. Terms of sale will be made on day of sale. Am going to California. John Montgomery. Jim Lone, erier.

"Free head cheese, apples and hard cider for all. Come and have a good time."

Pay Telephone Toll.

Don't overlook to pay your telephone toll before Oct. 12 if you wish to avoid paying 15 cents extra for collection. No bonus will be given by telephone. M. V. SIVELY, Secretary.

Italian War Dogs Are Making Dog History In The Present Conflict

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Rome, Aug. 22: (By Mail)—Reno is a real dog of war—not one of those symbolical dogs of war which typify the destructive onslaught of conflicting enemies. Yet Reno has done some pretty strenuous work against the enemy and as a result he is wearing a medal about his neck suspended by a tricolor ribbon.

Reno saved his master Lieutenant—in a hand-to-hand combat in Cadore. In consequence he is the Italy's dogs are playing an important part in the fierce struggle which is going on at the frontier. Austria has mobilized her canine soldiers with great success and today when dog meets dog in those mountainous confines of Italy's old provinces there are conflicts which would make dog history for all time.

The Italian war dogs are largely mastiffs. Reno is a big white "molosso" (mastiff) and is typical of all these faithful four-footed soldiers. The dogs are turned loose, unleashed from the trenches and go forth scouting, beating about in the brush and woods scented the enemy's approach. When it happens that they run afoul of Austrian dog scouts, doing similar duty, there is warfare of the wildest kind. Fierce and bloody it lasts till one of them has given his life for his country.

The Italian war dogs are perfectly trained. They follow the columns on the march. When a conflict occurs the dogs become half mad with ferocity, baying and jumping and leaping as though they would tear the enemy to pieces.

Reno, following the column, one day, beside his beloved master, saw a hand-to-hand combat between the Italian officer and an Austrian. The officer was struggling bravely but it was due to Reno that he was saved.

Leaping at the Austrian's throat the mastiff dragged him to the ground, piercing his jugular vein with his sharp teeth.

From that day on Reno has never left his lieutenant. He sleeps with him, and eats mess with him. When he is not in service he plays with the soldiers, deporting himself as any dog would who did not have a great world destiny hanging over his head.

The war dogs beside scout duty, and actual fighting are of especial use in Italian campaigning for they carry flasks about their necks and in the mountain passes are first aid to many an injured Alpine soldier.

Crescioni Mjehle who recovered his speech and hearing through the joy of seeing his lieutenant again, and Saturino Squillaciotti, Neapolitan, who regained his speech through hearing a nocturne of Chopins, offer two incidents among the many strange emotional happenings recorded in Italy's warfare.

The Italian temperament seems to be given daily proof of its normality.

Crescioni, infantryman, was not actually wounded but was thrown to the ground and shocked by a shell bursting near him. He lost his hearing and speech and was taken to the hospital at Toronto. All known means proved fruitless to restore him to his normal condition.

One day it was learned that his lieutenant had been brought to the hospital.

Thinking to give him pleasure the infantryman was taken to the officer with whom he had shared the joys and sorrows of warfare. The two threw themselves in each other's arms overcome by emotion. Releasing himself, his face beaming but covered with tears, the unfortunate soldier began to move his lips. With a supreme effort he forced strange unnatural sounds from his lips. But next day he regained his speech and hearing.

The ease, one of the strangest recorded at the Toronto hospital, is registered as having been a cure due to deep emotion.

The ease of Corporal Squillaciotti bears out the well known theory of the curative power of music. The Neapolitan like all his race is a lover of music. In violent combat he became suddenly mute. Taken to the hospital of Modena he failed to respond to treatment. One evening a doctor knowing of the corporal's passionate love for music began playing a Chopin nocturne on the hospital piano.

The soldier after the doctor had played the music for several minutes suddenly began to tremble. When he was asked what was the matter he said he had been hit in the head and that he had been hit in the head

and that he had been hit in the head

and that he had been hit in the head

and that he had been hit in the head

and that he had been hit in the head

LARGE CLASS FOR THE OPENING NIGHT

Baby Show Opens in Indianapolis
With Babies of Every Description Present

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—The dignity of the state senate chamber was all mussed up today for hundreds of babies of all descriptions (save one) took part in a free-for-all competition to determine who is the best baby in Indianapolis. Colored babies were not present. They will have their inning tomorrow morning.

This was "Baby week" for Indianapolis. The primary object of the week is to instruct the public in such a way as to reduce baby mortality.

Governor Ralston risked his political future today by taking an active part in praising various youngsters. The spectators were relegated to the galleries. Only mothers with babies were permitted on the senate floor.

Declines to Become Largest "Dry" City in United States

(By United Press.) Minneapolis, Oct. 5.—Minneapolis has declined to become the largest "dry" city in the United States. Today's footings of Monday's special election figures show that the "wets" defeated county option by 8,950 majority.

The voters ultimatum came as a distinct shock to the anti-saloon workers who confidently expected a sweeping victory.

Venture Will be Edited by Horace Herr And Will be For Wilson Bryan Democrats

TO BE PUBLISHED SUNDAY

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 5.—Democrats who distinguish themselves as Wilson-Bryan Démocrates are about to have a newspaper that will express their views. Horace H. Herr announced today that the first issue of the Indiana Forum will be published Sunday morning, Oct. 10 in this city. Herr, who recently retired from the editorship of the Indiana Times, is the editor and publisher of the new venture.

An indication of the part the weekly will play in Indiana factional politics was given by Herr today. He said, "The paper will endeavor to keep out of factional and sectional politics and will stand for the fundamentals of democracy as exemplified in the President, Senator Kern and Vice President Marshall.

John R. Jones of Plymouth, Ind., father of the Jones Primary Law, has joined the staff and R. B. Troy will have charge of the advertising department. The paper will have the full leased wire report of the United Press and will give a review of the news and editorial comment of the state. Herr recently returned from Europe where he visited the various fronts as war reporter.
